You can feel confident using Abena Abri-Flex XS1 Pull-on Underwear for bladder incontinence knowing that after up-to-date tests, they have been named superior in performance and customer satisfaction compared to other pull-ons. Crafted by using their innovative technology in the Abena factory in Denmark, the high quality of these incontinence underwear is sure to impress you.

Abena Abri-Flex XS1 Pull-on Underwear can stand up to three full bladder voids thanks to the exceptionally absorbent materials that make up the main portion of the brief. In addition, leak guards prevent surprise outflow from the sides of the underwear. The secure fit, flexibility and soft comfortable feel of these disposable underwear can be attributed to their densely-woven fibers. An elastic waistband makes it easier to change as needed.

For added comfort, they are covered with material similar to cloth so it can breathe, and free of latex for those with allergies or sensitivities. You can enjoy extra savings and less hassle since this product is so durable and requires less changes than competitors' products. Abena Abri-Flex XS1 Pull-on Underwear are unisex and can provide the same superior protection for both men and women.
